Progress against 2015 target: Joint Arts Programme: Very substantial progress has been made in relation to MIC targets for inter-institutional academic programme planning and delivery in the form of the new shared Bachelor of Arts programme. Challenges related to the timetabling of subjects that will allow for travel by staff and students between campuses have been overcome by formation of subject banding model that provides applicants with a wide range of choice from the combined suite of MIC and UL programmes. The new programme model has been formally approved by both institutions and added to the CAO Handbook for 2017-18. It is on target for intake in September 2017 as agreed with HEA in a revision to the original schedule.

Progress against 2015 target: Development of the joint Structured PhD programme in Built Environment / Architecture is on schedule. This is a unique and innovative offering that combines academic expertise in Engineering, the Built Environment and Architecture in LIT and UL respectively and spatial analysis and planning at MIC. The programme will offer core modules from each area so that students have an academic experience that draws from each of the three Shannon Consortium institutions. Elective modules from each institutions’ set of offerings will also be available for selection. The programme is currently being developed by a joint planning groups and will proceed towards adoption and intake in 2017-18 per target above. The joint Structured PhD in Philosophy and Culture, has been jointly developed by MIC and NUIG. Progress against 2015 target:

The Shannon Consortium is now building on its framework for coordinated approaches to access and linkage with the FE sector towards progression and transition to higher education. In 2015 a new joint information campaign was co-developed by MIC and UL to support its targeting strategy for prospective access students. The Shannon Consortium institutions have also developed an excellent strategic relationship with Limerick & Clare Education & Training Board and are currently building a new framework agreement for direct access routes to higher education from FE provision for completion of Pass-level Leaving Certificate students. The Shannon Consortium members are also working collectively with the local authorities in the Mid West towards integration of their strategic goals and output reporting with the new Local Economic & Community Plans for each administrative area (as well as with the Limerick City Regional Jobs Forum).

Progress against 2015 target:

At the end of Academic Year 2014-15 a 300% rise in teaching and learning initiatives developed and implemented by MIC as part of the broader Shannon Consortium teaching and learning network. This included 3 Conversations in the Consortium events, 12 teaching and learning workshops and 2 national seminars. Additional outputs are detailed in Section 2, below.

In terms of governance and operations, a regional strategic steering group for teaching and learning has been formed and meetings regularised with 2 per semester (including 2015) for the purposes of joint planning and reporting. There is an excellent level of cooperation and collegiality in the teaching and learning domain with mutual support of the three institutions operations taking place daily.

Progress against 2015 target:

Wider participation rates at MIC held steady in absolute terms in 2014-15 and 2015-16 although the 20% rise in total undergraduate enrolments between 2013/14 and 2015/16 suggests a slight decline in mature student numbers relative to the total population. The main conclusion derived is that while it remains difficult to significantly increase absolute numbers (although the College has seen a welcome increase in students from backgrounds of socio-economic disadvantage) in the current climate, stability has been maintained. Against a backdrop of decline in mature student participation, nationally, it is clear that a system-wide approach is required to induce more positive engagement trends and to build the capacity required to reach the targets set out in the new national plan for equity of access to higher education.

Wider Participation Rates:

- ✓ Total Undergraduate Enrolments: 2013/14 - 2,511; 2014/15 - 2,570; 2015/16 - 3,042
- ✓ Total Mature Student Numbers across all Undergraduate programmes: 5.7% (down 2.6%) in 2014/15, holding at 5.8% in 2015/16
- ✓ Total % Mature New Entrants (first year): 5.9% (up 1.8%) in 2014/15, falling to 5% in 2015/16
- ✓ Total Disability Rates: 2.9% (up 0.7%) in 2014/15, holding at 2.8% in 2015/16
- ✓ Total Disability New Entrants Rates: 3.0% (up 0.6%) in 2014/15, falling to 2.3% in 2015/16
- ✓ Total SED Rates: 7.3% (up 0.9%) in 2014/15, rising to 7.9% in 2015/16
- ✓ Total SED New Entrants Rates: 7.0% (down 1.4%) in 2014/15, rising to 8.3% in 2015/16.

Progress against 2015 target:

[For global wider participation data, see 2.1, above].

In 2015, a new institutional Access Strategy was developed in alignment with the MIC Strategic Plan and the new national strategy for access to higher education (2015-19).

1-year Teacher Education Preparatory Programme designed as a Foundation Certificate initiative was successfully piloted in 2013-14 and in 2015 a new Course Director was appointed. This programme was developed to target and prepare mature students for direct entry to the MIC BEd programme following completion of the preparatory course, satisfactory progress in core modules and achievement of minimum entry grades in the Leaving Certificate programme. The programme is an excellent example of partnership with the FE sector towards seamless progression between further and higher education pathways. Limerick & Clare ETB (LCETB) contributed financial and teaching resources to the programme. 18 students were enrolled in the 2014-15 programme with 100% successfully completing and offered places on the BEd programme. Two students deferred their offers citing financial reasons for doing so. This highly successful programme demonstrates clearly that where well-scaffolded access routes are provided, academic potential can be met and progression is enabled. It also shows that targeted financial supports are necessary for students to take up opportunities provided through access initiatives.

Of particular note is the widening of MIC's existing partnership with the LCETB through the addition of Limerick Youth Service as a resource-contributing partner. It is also significant that the model of scaffolded pre-entry and Leaving Certificate preparation has now been replicated elsewhere in the sector for direct entry to professional degree programmes.

Progress against 2015 target:

2-year, QQI-accredited Level 4 Certificate in General Learning & Personal Development in partnership with Brothers of Charity, Ennis, successfully developed and approved by MIC Academic Programme Approval Committee (APAC), accredited by QQI via Brothers of Charity Ennis (as approved provider). This programme reached all quality targets set by QQI.

Progression achieved: 14 students progressed from year 1 to year 2 + 2 new students meaning a total enrolment of 16 students in 2014-15.

Significantly, a three-year funding package has been put in place by the College following successful applications for private grants from philanthropic sources. Regrettably, Exchequer funding has not been provided.

In December 2015 the College secured agreement in principle from QQI that it could apply to be the Level 4 Primary Provider for this programme.

Progress against 2015 target:

The College successfully met all of its intake targets across all programmes for Academic Year 2014-15 and commencement of Academic Year 2015-16.

Three significant developments in the strategic growth of the College should be noted in addition to this. First of all, following agreement with the Minister for Education & Skills, the DES and the HEA, the College commenced a process of incorporation of St. Patrick's College, Thurles. It is projected that by September 2016, an extra 240 students (estimates based on CAO preferences confirm this target will be met) will be enrolled in four concurrent initial teacher education (second level) at the Thurles campus. The Thurles Campus cohort will rise to 360 (minimum) by 2021. The second development was the awarding of a HEA grant of 5.4 million euros to deliver the new National Higher Education Programme for Inclusion Coordinators in Early Years Settings. Graduates will receive a Level 6 Special Purpose Award in the Inclusion of Children with Disabilities in ECCE settings. This programme will add 3,600 students to the College's enrolment register between 2016 and 2020 bringing the student population to an estimated total of 5,000 by Academic Year 2020-2021.

Progress against 2015 target:

Significant progress was made in the area of continuous quality assurance by the end of 2015, bring the College back on track towards its targets. Most significantly, the College commenced engagement in an institution-level quality review as part of the national institutional cyclical quality review process coordinated by QQI. It was agreed with UL that the institutional review would be undertaken on its behalf (as the Designated Awarding Body or DAB) by QQI and terms of reference were finalized following a public consultation process in December. Of particular note is the introduction, nationally, of the 2015 European Standards & Guidelines (ESG) and MIC has agreed to be the first Irish HEI to undergo an institutional review subject to this new framework.

The College has invested in its Continuous Quality Assurance infrastructure by augmenting its resource base. A new Director of Quality, appointed at SL level from within the Academic staff of the College has taken up the leadership position within the Quality Office and with other staffing developments the quality function is now staffed by 3 people with technical expertise in quality assurance.

In addition to the institutional review, the Quality Office launched local quality self-assessment review processes in the thematic areas of community engagement and ab initio language learning by international students (in addition to the commencement of a student support service SAR in 2015), as well as Quality Benchmark Surveys of Academic departments and Professional Service units, respectively.

At the time of writing, the two SARs had commenced and following an in-depth process of engagement with QQI and a wide range of stakeholder consultations, the Institutional Self Evaluation Report (ISER) had been drafted by the Director of Quality (prior to formal submission to QQI in August 2016). The College also approved a new model of practice for Module Satisfaction Surveys (MSS) that aligns to the UL model and also synchronises data collection with coordinated response measures under the Centre for Teaching & Learning. The MSS will roll out on a full cycle basis in September 2016.

Student Evaluation of Teaching (SET) surveys were carried out (and are detailed below) and in-depth student response surveys took place with all year cohorts of the newly re-conceptualised (4-year) Bachelor of Education programme, the Bachelor of Education in Education and Psychology, the Bachelor of Arts in early Childhood Care & Education, and the new (2-year) Level 9 Professional Master of Education programme.

It should be noted that the College also engaged with the QQI as part of its consultation process on the methodology of continuous quality assurance (2015 White Paper) in which an external review panel recommended a move away from high frequency turn-over of traditional unit-level SARs towards fewer but more coordinated thematic reviews that embrace holistic analysis of institutional performance as well as better engagement with external partners. The College's targets have been revised in line with these recommendations.

Considering the new trajectory and methodology of continuous quality assurance recommended at national and international policy level as well as the significant increase in engagement with continuous quality assurance initiatives and the conducting of an institutional self-assessment exercise under QQI, MIC is of the opinion that its strategy and activities in this sphere have now exceeded the targets set at submission of its Performance Compact and has re-classified its progress measure accordingly.

Progress against 2015 target:

The total undergraduate student retention rate for Academic Year 2013/14 stood at 98.2%, well above target for the year.

The Learner Support Unit (which, in 2015, was re-branded the Academic Learner Centre), provided support for students outside the lecture environment (e.g. tutorials in academic writing skills, mathematics etc.) to 1,541 students, exceeding its target of 975 contacts in 2015 by over 50%. The ALC target was exceeded once again in 2015-2016 with a total of 1,805 students availing of the service. The Unit delivered one-to-one tutorials to 587 individuals and group a further 665 in small work-shops designed to address common issues for which students across all programmes sought assistance. The Unit adopted a particular strategy for students identified as at risk of failing subjects or exiting their programmes by delivering the following:

Exceptional retention rates continued to be recorded:

Total Retention Rates: 2014-15 – 97.5%; 2015-16 – 98.8% (a total of 37 students exited from the 2015-2015 total cohort of 3,042)
 First Year Retention Rates: 2014-15 – 98.1%; 2015-16 – 96.4%

In 2014-15 and 2015-16 the lowest rates of exit were recorded amongst the Bachelor of Education cohort (3.7% and 1.9% exited in each year, respectively) with the highest numbers leaving the Liberal Arts programme where the exiting students totalled 7.1% and 5.9% in each year, respectively.

In a new development, exit interviews are conducted with each student leaving a MIC programme (in the Faculty of Arts students are met by the Dean and in the Faculty of Education the interviews are conducted by the Assistant Dean). This allows for the building of a knowledge base about the issues afflicting exiting students and informs the College's retention strategy.

Progress against 2015 target:

In 2014-15, the College launched and completed a ‘feasibility study,’ by public tender, for the design of its planned new Library. Following this, the College launched a call for design of the new Library Building setting out the requirement that specifications identified during the feasibility study (including scale and cost) should be followed and that the successful tenderer would be required to assist the College with the submission and acquisition of planning permission for the build. The process, financed by College from its own resources ring-fenced for capital development of the library project, led to appointment of Scott Tallon Walker Architects. At the time of reporting, the design team had submitted a design concept to the College Executive and submission of planning permission was due to take place in Autumn 2016, on schedule.

Progress against 2015 target:

Progress in the area of student communications has kept pace with the high rate of success identified in the 2014 report. Additionally, online student enrolment has been successfully introduced (at the commencement of Academic Year 2015-16) alongside introduction of online fees payment options. The College wishes to enhance its online fees payment structure such that it is fully integrated with the Student Record System (SRS). However, limitations are currently in effect due to the fact that the College is a tenant of UL on its SRS and the University has temporarily paused development of the system so that enhancements can be made. The College's lack of governance equity and change management initiative has been identified as a corporate risk in terms of its ability to develop key systems (such as online fees payment) fully and without dependence on the University. This issue was highlighted for management attention during submission of the 2015 accounts by the College Auditors. The College is currently engaged in detailed discussions with UL in relation to its SRS governance, change management and service support requirements and is evaluating its range of options towards mitigation of the corporate risks identified.

In other developments linked to the enhancement of communications and information services for students, a new online student intranet portal and academic portfolio environment (MAHARA) has been developed and integrated with the Moodle VLE and the College is rolling out a new Microsoft 365 service to all students for e-mail that will also allow for free, secure cloud storage as well as the full range of Microsoft Office applications for no cost to users. The College is developing a new website (second phase of development since 2012 baseline). Finally, the College has introduced a new online real-time question-and-answer service about its programmes, requirements and services aimed at prospective applicants.

Progress against 2015 target:

As noted above, the Federated Limerick Graduate School had been operationalised by the time of reporting and this will enhance the pre-existing level of cross-fertilisation of graduate scholarship and mentoring across the Shannon Consortium institutions. Prior to this, the level of collaboration and coordination between the institutions has been very high with reciprocal professional development provided to Academic staff and researchers by graduate school staff in each of the institutions. A good example from 2015 was comprehensive training provided by the Dean of Graduate Studies, UL, to MIC staff on doctoral student supervision and adherence to regulatory requirements.

Strategic coordination of teaching and learning activities is fully embedded with out-turns as follows:

- ✓ Implementation of new online BA in Early Childhood Practice (Level 7), with ITT resulting in 20% of MIC degree programmes being offered through flexible learning;
- ✓ Submission of 8 collaborative bids to NF Teaching and Learning Enhancement Fund
- ✓ Two successful bids for MIC National Seminars.

Progress against 2015 target:

In 2015, the College established a strategic working group to identify growth areas for Level 10 developments and this group presented a strategic plan together with a target of 4 new Structured PhD programmes and an increase of PhD register enrolments by 40.

Significant developments have now taken place in the identification and approval of new doctoral education opportunities against these targets These include:

- ✓ Structured PhD in Applied Linguistics (launching September 2016)
- ✓ Structured PhD in Development Education & Practice
- ✓ Professional Doctorate in Educational & Child Psychology
- ✓ Structured PhD in Irish Studies

Note: the UL-LIT-MIC Joint Structured PhD in the Built Environment & Society is in addition to the developed listed above.

Notably, postgraduate research enrolment for the Academic Year 2015-16 showed a 59% increase over the previous year with growth in numbers from 24 to 41. Perhaps most significantly, the 125th doctorate will be conferred by the College in October 2016, following the first such award in 2003.

Progress against 2015 target:

Feedback received following submission of the 2014 MIC Self-Evaluation Report indicated that the panel would like to see an enhancement in the methodology used to collect and report upon research outputs. For some time the College has been engaged in developing a new data analytics system and a substantial breakthrough was made in this work in 2015 and early 2016 with development of an integrated online analytics and data visualisation dashboard. This resources pulls SQL-compatible data from multiple sources and provides reports on important metrics and KPIs.

Particular attention was given to the quality and completeness of research data. Hitherto, the College generated data based on annual surveys of Academic staff to identify quanta and trends. In the new system, a standing research database was created and available information prepopulated with known data. In a second phase of development all Academic staff were invited to login to their profile in the online database and verify that the data captured was accurate and to make amendments and additions required to render the database fully accurate. 100% completion of this exercise was achieved through coordination by the Research & Graduate School.

Results against key metrics for the period 2013 – 2015 now include:

479 conference presentations, of which 43% were at international conferences;
 147 book chapters;
 78 journal articles;
 105 engagements as external examiners, as follows: 43 for undergraduate programmes, 23 for postgraduate programmes, 10 for research masters and 29 for doctoral theses;
 22 doctorates currently under supervision.

Progress against 2015 target:

In 2015, MIC created the post of Director of Enterprise & Community Engagement. The purpose of this post has been to build on the considerable achievements of the College in its long history of collaboration and partnership with the wider community. Progress since this appointment has been made has been exceptional and of particular importance for the College has been the focus on STEM / STEAM engagement between the College as provider of initial teacher education and the broader education, civic and commercial sectors of the community. Out-turns include:

- ✓ Development of a new Enterprise & Community Engagement Strategy linked to the College Strategic Plan (and Performance Compact);
- ✓ Strategic partnerships and engagement with, inter alia, the Bizworld programme, Junior Achievement programmes, participation and leadership of initiatives set out by the Regional Action Plan for Jobs (Project Delivery Team), Startup Ireland, Limerick Start up Gathering Steering Group), collaboration with Local Enterprise Offices, City/County Councils and Chambers of Commerce regionally; Global Limerick Network, Shannon Regional Skills Forum, Shannon Consortium, Limerick for Engineering, Limerick for IT, Limerick 2020 Forum, SFI Limerick Festival of Science; RDS STEM programme;
- ✓ Hosting of the Bank of Ireland Transition Year Academy event; career events with industry partners and the Limerick Chamber including student presentations by Uber, Northern Trust and Dell, and 1-2-1 clinics with the Chief Executive of Bridgewater Management;
- ✓ Appointment of the Director of Enterprise & Community Engagement onto the Mid West Regional Skills Steering Group, Limerick Start Up Forum, Implementation Committee for the Mid West Action Plan for Jobs (the Director is leading two of the actions on behalf of MIC linked to entrepreneurial education and CPD for teachers); Innovate Limerick Sub-group of Startup Limerick, Limerick for IT and Limerick for Engineering;
- ✓ Lead role in delivery of STEM CPD as part of the Mallow Chamber's Development Partnership;
- ✓ Drafting of Level 8 entrepreneurial education elective modules.

Of particular note, the College continued to be a core member of the Limerick Charter for Change Group and joined the Steering Group for Limerick's application to be designated European Capital of Culture in 2020 (the College developed 10 lead projects for the 'bid book'). Remaining with the theme of culture, the Lime Tree Theatre was awarded the contract by Limerick City & County Council to manage the box office for the venerable Belltable Theatre, one of the city's most iconic live performance venues which had been threatened by permanent closure due to financial challenges.

Of great significance to the College was its determined efforts to take leadership in the arena of STEM education and teacher education / CPD in the primary sector, with one of the highlights of 2015 and 2016 being the inaugural Regional RDS Primary Science Fair which took place on campus. The College was a partner in this event and contributed to the programme. The success of the partnership has led to a decision by the RDS to run the fair as a 2-day event in 2017.

Progress against 2015 target:

Phase 2 review of operations and infrastructure completed and Director of International Office and International Officer posts mainstreamed and filled. In terms of strategic infrastructure, a new internationalisation strategy was drafted in line with discussion paper for the DES International Education Strategy, 2016-2020 and Education in Ireland priority markets. A significant level of engagement took place with the HEA in the areas of staff and student mobility and targeting of new international markets. At the time of reporting, successful granting of US Federal Aid status – a first for an Irish College of Education & the Liberal Arts – had been announced. At the time of reporting, the College was in the process of applying for membership of the US Common Applications framework for American high school students and a delegation of high school guidance counsellors had visited the College on a three-day fact-finding mission.

Extensive international engagement out-turns achieved and detailed in 6.2, below.

Progress against 2015 target:

Following bedding in of the newly-created MIC International Office and appointment of a Director, the College's international engagement took a considerable step forward with establishment of new bilateral relationships with overseas HEIs, staff and student mobility, engagement with national bodies promoting internationalisation of Irish higher education and the securing of funds and grants to fund institutional strategy. Key out-turns include the following:

- ✓ The Brazilian Science without Borders programme yielded 5 student registrations and due to its successful engagement with this programme the College was invited to join a HEA delegation to Brazil where, apart from attendance at the HEA/DAAD Roadshow, 13 universities were visited by College representatives during May 2015;
- ✓ New strategy for Asia was rolled out, involving collaboration with UL and LIT in China and MIC worked closely with UL and LIT to plan strategy in China and participate in Ministerial Mission to Beijing and Shanghai making regional linkages with universities in Dalian;
- ✓ Enhanced targeting, outreach and strategies in place, incorporating North & South America this quarter, as well as Libyan government scholarships.
- ✓ 6 full-programme fee-paying students (4 postgraduate, 2 undergraduate) were registered;
- ✓ There was a 350% increase in number of full-time students visiting MIC for study-abroad periods
- ✓ 337% increase in funding from outside of the Exchequer for these students alone (€190,742 total income);
- ✓ There was a 50% year-on-year increase in fee-paying full-programme students, both under graduate and postgraduate including 1 Level 10 student who received Canadian OSAD funding.
- ✓ Summer schools were organised on campus for 4 US universities and the International Office hosted 2 interns from the US for the summer period;
- ✓ Major outreach and fact-finding visit to benchmark US universities including Boston College and Notre Dame were undertaken and in the case of the latter a multitude of initiatives have been developed around teacher education;
- ✓ The newly-established MIC Language School provided PSE for LIT's international students (including Science without Borders students) and MIC's own Science without Borders students;
- ✓ In 2011/2012 17% of eligible BA students went on Erasmus exchange. In 2014/15 that number was 20% signalling success in a renewed drive to encourage Liberal Arts students to opt for international academic placements during their cooperative education modules. 30 BA students undertook Erasmus study in 2015/16, including our first students at Durham University and University of Westminster in the UK, as well as our first student at Universität Koblenz-Landau in Germany and our first student of Psychology under our newly-established Erasmus study partnership in Psychology at Aarhus University (Denmark), a first of its kind for Ireland with this long-standing partner of the College
- ✓ During the reporting period MIC opened dialogue towards new Erasmus study links in Barcelona, Spain, Ruzomberok, Slovakia and Bordeaux, France.
Aside of the Erasmus students outgoing from the College, 7 BA students travelled to the USA for study abroad at the following institutions: ACU, Loyola, UST Houston, Le Moyne, St. Cloud Minnesota and Niagara University NY.
- ✓ 37 Erasmus+ students registered at MIC (21 for Autumn semester and 16 for full-year study) with a comprehensive orientation programme provided for these students in September 2015 (cohort included our first students from a new Erasmus+ Education partner - Universidad Católica de Valencia (Spain), our first students from Institut Toulouse le Mirail (France) as well as our first student from a long-standing Erasmus partner, University College, Lillebaelt in Denmark);
- ✓ Two members of academic staff undertook Erasmus+ staff mobility visits to Copenhagen, Denmark and the College welcomed Voicu Bodocan, Assoc. Prof., Department of Geography, Babes-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca, Romania as well as Ms. Annie Despartureaux, International Relations Co-ordinator at Institut Catholique de Toulouse to Mary Immaculate College during Q4;
- ✓ At the time of reporting, the College enjoyed its strongest measure of success with the Erasmus+ programme by winning a total of €133,168 of International Credit Mobility for the support of a total of 42 students from the United States, China, Serbia and Montenegro. This placed MIC fifth in the overall national standings for draw-down of funds for successful funding applications and second in terms of student numbers supported. Significantly, the top three institutions in terms of students supported were the members of the Shannon Consortium and HEA feedback stated that the standard of applications were extremely high within a very competitive field.
- ✓ Equally significantly, MIC succeeded in winning two Government of Ireland Scholarships in 2015 (and again in 2016, at the time of reporting, MIC won a further two scholarships out of a total of 22 nationwide).

AOPs, approved by Governing Authority, aligned to institutional KPIs and inclusive of tagged Performance Compact targets are prepared at the beginning of each Academic Year and adopted by the Governing Authority. Q1-Q4 implementation status reports are prepared by the Strategic Planning Group (SPG) and reported to the Governing Authority, also quarterly.

The College Risk Register is also synchronised with the AOP in order to ensure mitigating actions are consistent with the Strategic Plan and the Performance Compact and this is reviewed by the SPG on a quarterly basis as well, with governance oversight by the Audit & Risk Committee.

A draft Strategic Plan 2017-2021 was prepared and presented to the Governing Authority, Trustees and SPG at the time of reporting and this is fully inclusive of current Performance Compact objectives and aligned with the HEA's high level domains.
