

Law Graduates: Graduate Outcomes Survey Class of 2021

HEA | HIGHER EDUCATION AUTHORITY
AN tÚDARÁS um ARD-OIDEACHAS

GRADUATE
OUTCOMES
WHERE TO NEXT?

Who graduates from Law programmes?

Approximately 2,500 students graduate with a qualification in Law every year.

83% graduate from Universities and 11% graduate from Technological Universities.

69% graduate with an Honours Degree, and 24% with a Masters.

Nearly two in three law graduates identify as female.

12% of Law graduates are international.

What do Law graduates do after graduation?

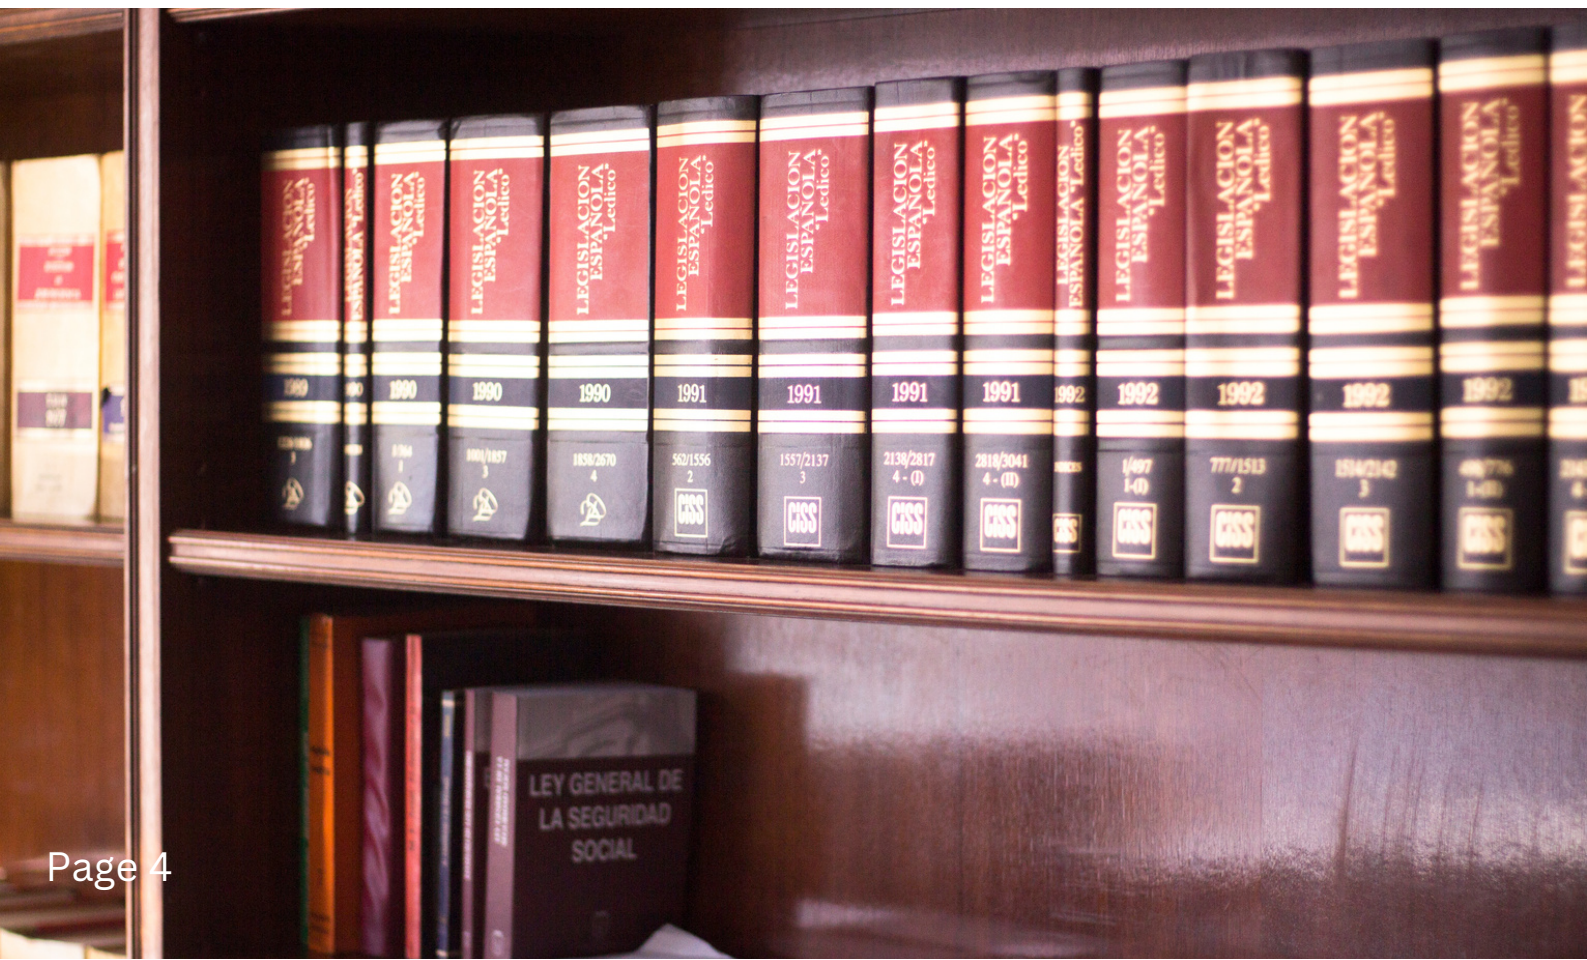

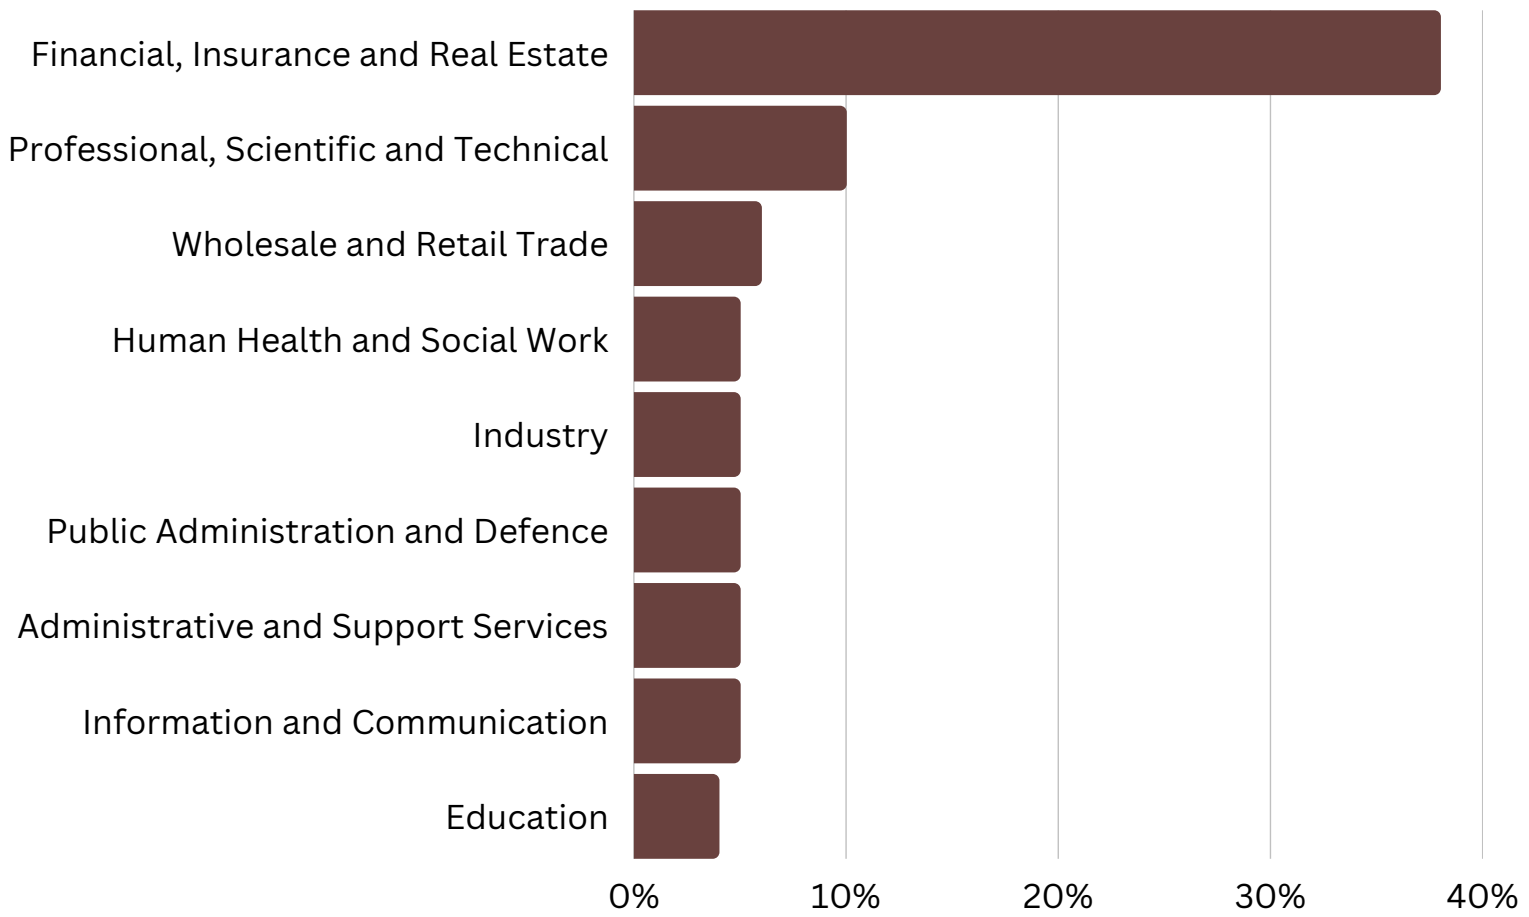

The response rate to the Graduate Outcomes Survey Class of 2021 for Law graduates was 54%.

Nine months after graduation:

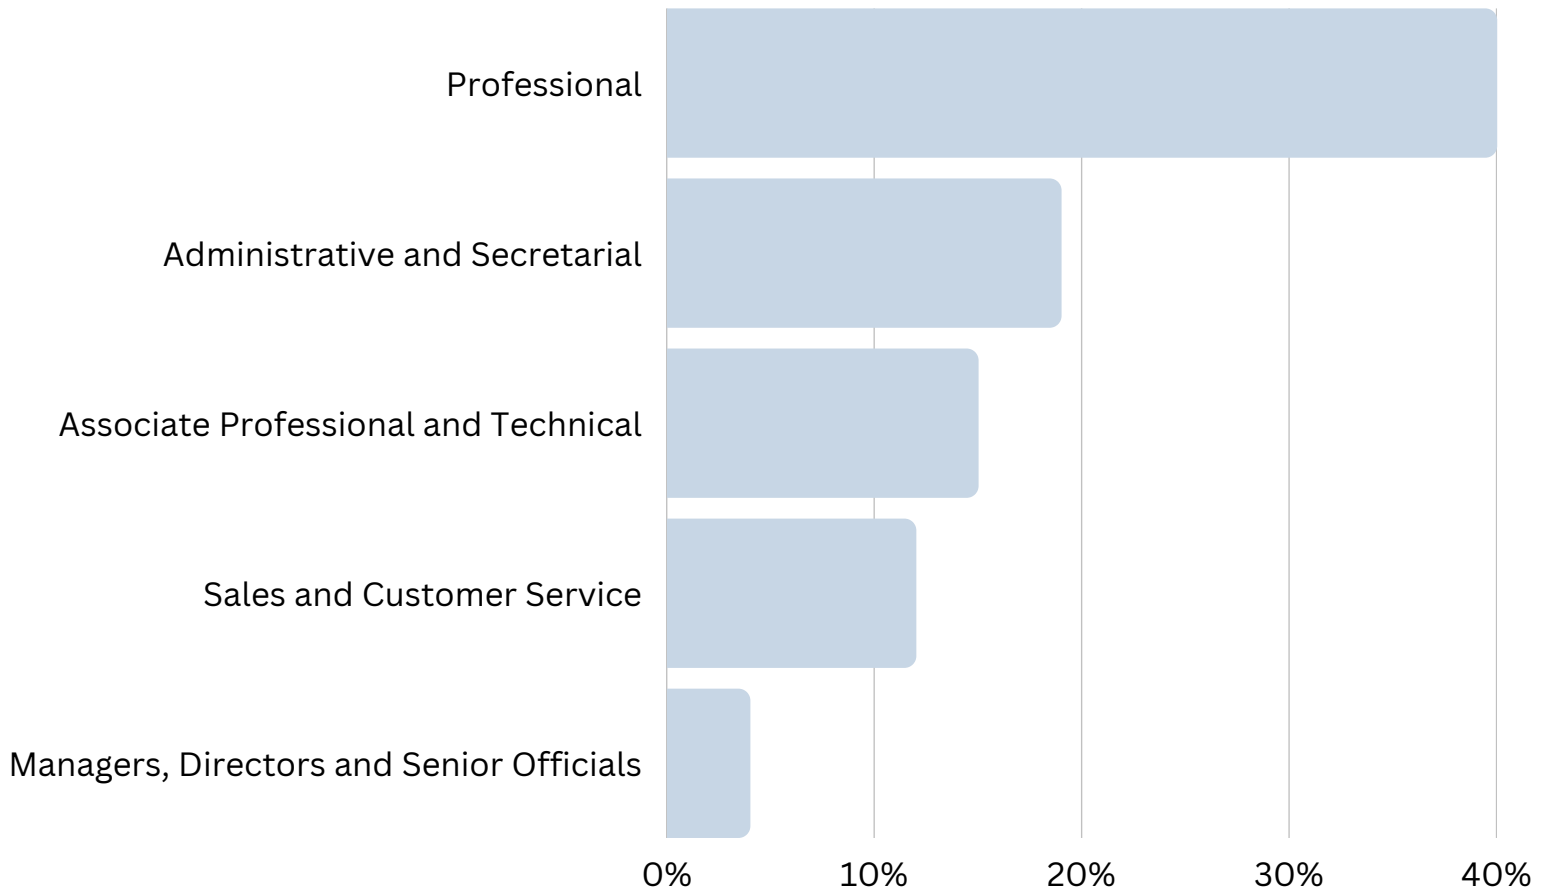

- 71% were in employment
- 23% were in further study
- 3% were seeking employment
- 3% were engaged in other activities

What economic sectors do Law graduates work in?

What occupations do Law graduates have?

Work experience/internship

79% of Law graduates did not do any work experience/internship as part of their qualification.

For 14%, work experience/internship was mandatory and for 7% who undertook work experience, it was optional.

For those who did work experience/internship, 71% had placements that lasted more than six months.

Graduate Reflections

50% of Law graduates said their qualification was relevant or very relevant to their job; though 57% said that their qualification was a formal requirement for their job.

31% said their qualification was irrelevant or very irrelevant to their job.

50% of Law graduates would study for the same qualification, if they had their time again.

For further information contact graduatesurvey@hea.ie.

You can find more resources on the Graduate Outcomes Survey at www.graduateoutcomes.ie.

Valerie Harvey

January 2023

