☐ Please click to certify that you understand and agree with the Data Collection Notice detailed below

The Higher Education Authority (HEA), as coordinator of the Government of Ireland International Education Scholarship (GOI-IES) scheme, needs to collect certain types of data in order to process applications to the scheme.

This notice sets out below the type of information which will be collected, the purpose for which it is being collected, third parties with whom the information will be shared and the duration for which the information will be retained.

Type of information required

- Personal data including name, address, nationality, contact details, gender, academic details (including those in the applicants' admission offer documents), employment history and other information pertaining to candidates' academic suitability for the scholarship.
- Personal data including name, address, contact details, name of employer and position of the candidates' referees.

Purpose for which the HEA is requesting information

- To establish means of communication with all applicants.
- To ascertain the eligibility of applicants who submit an application to the GOI-IES scheme.
- To assess the GOI-IES applications against the assessment criteria included in the GOI-IES call document.
- To establish a database of successful scholars as part of the post-call administration of the scholarship funding.
- To carry out monitoring and audit of the programme.

This data will be stored on servers located in the United States of America. The HEA has signed an agreement containing standard contractual clauses with Submittable Holdings, Inc., the providers of the grant management system that the HEA uses, to ensure GDPR compliance for all data collected for the GOI-IES funding system.

Third Parties with whom information may be shared

- An Independent Assessment Panel will assess shortlisted applications. The application forms will be disclosed, via secure channels, to the Independent Assessment Panel.
- The Department of Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science, as the overall funder of the programme.
- Higher Education Institutions and/or Funding Agencies in Ireland as course providers.
- Names, countries of origin, and host institutions of successful scholars may be shared with a representative from Enterprise Ireland for the purposes of organising the annual award ceremony.

Duration of retention of data

The Higher Education Authority may retain documentation related to the Scholarship scheme for seven years, after which records will be securely destroyed. Any data retained after this timeframe will be anonymised.

All users: Starting, completing and submitting your application

Step 1: The screen below will be displayed. To begin your application, click the box on the left that reads “Get Started”.

Step 1. Use Create a Profile to Get Started to create your profile.

Step 2. Use + Get Started to start completing your application.

Use + Add Another to start a second application, only if your first application failed the automated eligibility check. If your first application passed the automated eligibility check and was submitted successfully, you must not submit a second eligible application.

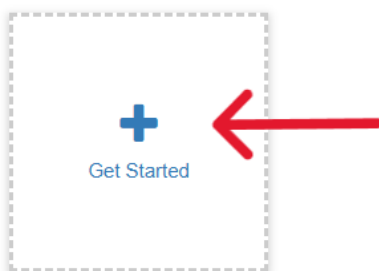

Please click here for detailed instructions: 2026 GOI-IES Application Help Doc.

Profile Complete Edit

Now that you have created your profile, you can start to complete your application. Click the application card below to get started.

At any point in the process, you can return to the home page to view the status of your application and actions required.

- If the status bar is orange, an action is required. Click on the application card status bar to complete.
- If the status bar is red, there is an error. Please reach out to the Administrator of this program.
- If the status bar is gray, your application is under review or completed and no action is needed.

Step 2: After clicking “Get started”, you will see the first two sections of the application form.

- Personal Details. Enter details such as your name, contact details, gender, and nationality. These details are separate from your Profile and cannot be edited after the application has been submitted.
- Application eligibility. This section contains three questions about the main eligibility criteria. Once submitted, your answers to these eligibility questions will be automatically assessed in the system, to determine whether your application is eligible. This check is referred to in the GOI-IES documentation and application form as “automated eligibility check” or “preliminary eligibility check”.

Click “Open” to answer the questions in these two sections.

"Preferred email": If you misspell your email address, you will not receive any communication about your application.

“Name of HEI in Ireland where you have been offered a place to study”: Your application will be automatically sent for review to the HEI that you selected in this field. If you did not correctly select the name of the HEI that issued your offer of admission, but selected another HEI instead, your application will be reviewed by the incorrectly selected HEI. Your application will be deemed ineligible, because it will not have an offer of admission for that HEI.

Checking the status of your submitted application

You will receive email updates about the status of your application, after specific stages of the review and assessment processes are completed. In addition, the status bar of your application card will change to reflect the status of your application, as shown below.

The status bar changed from “Submitted” to “Ineligible”.

What it means:

The application failed the eligibility screening conducted by the HEA. Possible reasons for this include:

- an offer of admission was not provided with the application.
- the candidate submitted more than one eligible application.

Scholarship declined

The status bar reads “Scholarship declined”

What it means:

The successful candidate has declined the scholarship offer. A candidate from the Reserve List will be contacted to be offered the scholarship that has become available.

The status bar reads “On Reserve List”

What it means:

The application was not proposed for funding, but its position in the overall ranking was high enough for the application to be included in the Reserve List. If one of the successful candidates declines their scholarship offer, this candidate might be next in line to be made a scholarship offer.

The status bar reads “Shortlisted: Unsuccessful”

What it means:

The position of this shortlisted application in the overall ranking was not high enough for the candidate to be made a scholarship offer or to be included in the Reserve List. This application is unsuccessful.
